Her extensive experience in estate and gift taxation, fiduciary income taxation, fiduciary accounting, personal income tax planning and charitable planning enables Minou to bring a unique perspective to her client's wealth transfer planning and administrative needs. As a Certified Public Accountant, Minou creates cash flow and financial models of complicated wealth transfer, estate and income tax transactions to assist clients in formulating and understanding their transactions. She also works closely with her client's accountants on estate, gift and income tax compliance issues related to the client's wealth transfer plans and trust and estate administration.

Minou also counsels her clients on tax compliance and controversy issues, and has represented clients before the Internal Revenue Service at both the audit and appellate levels.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart in 1998, Minou was a Senior Manager in the Personal Financial Planning department at KPMG Peat Marwick LLP, specializing in wealth transfer planning, estate and gift tax planning and income tax compliance matters.
