A results-focused strategist, Anton helps clients navigate complex political landscapes and achieve pragmatic policy solutions.

As a non-lawyer government affairs professional, Anton helps clients develop and execute strategic approaches to complex political and policy challenges at federal and state levels, with a particular focus on issues affecting Alaska's economic development. He guides energy and natural resource companies through legislative processes, regulatory hurdles, and challenging political landscapes to achieve their business objectives.

Anton has a proven track record of working behind the scenes to cultivate bipartisan stakeholder relationships and build coalitions among parties with shared interests to achieve approvals and outcomes. He also brings expertise developing and executing advocacy campaigns using innovative grassroots strategies backed by stellar fundraising capabilities.

Clients benefit from Anton's deep understanding of congressional dynamics and his ability to craft and negotiate workable solutions based on legislators' political and policy priorities.

Before joining Holland & Hart, Anton served as Chief of Staff for the Office of US Representative (AK) Mary Peltola. He also served as Policy Co-Chair Chief for the Blue Dogs Coalition & PAC, where he focused on pragmatic policy solutions in resource development, energy, and agriculture while building extensive networks across industry groups and trade associations.
