Richard provides high net worth clients and family offices with comprehensive estate planning and tax-efficient wealth management solutions.

Richard supports clients in reaching their personal, financial, and tax goals by helping them develop comprehensive and tailored wealth preservation and transfer solutions. He assists high net worth families and family offices on complex estate planning structures, trust administration, and strategic transactions. Richard also represents clients in tax-exempt organization matters, business succession planning, and charitable giving strategies.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Richard served as a family office law clerk at the Larry H. Miller Company and the Elmore Companies.
