Lindsey provides dedicated case management support to litigators facing complex matters.

Attorneys representing clients across a wide range of industries appreciate Lindsey's attention to detail when drafting documents and conducting legal research in support of ongoing matters. She showcases her depth of experience in case management, assisting multiple attorneys with trial preparations and courtroom support, and maintaining relationships with client representatives and other departments within the firm.

As a Utah State Bar-registered paralegal and RelativityOne-certified professional, Lindsey brings experience in electronic discovery and legal technology platforms.

Before joining the Holland & Hart team, Lindsey was a paralegal and legal support specialist at an Am Law 200 law firm and previously worked as Assistant Vice President of Litigation at a financial services company, where she managed filing matters in federal, state, and tribal courts in jurisdictions across the country.
