Deepti advises fund managers and investors across a range of alternative asset investments, guiding clients through the legal and business considerations of launching and operating investment funds, raising capital, and pursuing growth opportunities.

Deepti advises fund sponsors, startups, and private companies on fund formation, private securities matters, and corporate transactions. She helps clients navigate the complexities of forming strategic partnerships and capital-raising transactions.

In addition to her investment funds practice, Deepti counsels startups and private companies on preferred stock financings, joint ventures, mergers and acquisitions, and other strategic business matters. Her experience includes advising clients on governance structures, investor rights, capital contributions, profit-sharing arrangements, buy-sell provisions, and exit strategies.

Prior to joining Holland & Hart, Deepti was a corporate and private securities attorney at a boutique firm in Dallas.
